CEASE AND DESIST ORDER

The Alabama Securities Commission ("Commission"), having authority to administer and provide for the enforcement of all provisions of Title 8, Chapter 6, Code of Alabama 1975, the Alabama Securities Act ("Act"), upon due consideration of the subject matter hereof, and having confirmed information of the offers for sale and/or sale of securities, into, within or from the state of Alabama, has determined as follows:

RESPONDENTS

1. INVESTINGCI ("ICI") is a Florida based Limited Liability Company and is a trademark platform operated by SEL Investments, LTD. ICI has a business address of 1613 East Robinson Street, #5, Orlando, Florida 32803.
2. LOUIS BERK, ("BERK") is listed on the Florida Secretary of States website as the Registered Agent for ICI, and has a business address of 800 N. Magnolia Ave. Ste. 1800 Orlando, FL 32803 - 3271.
3. TOMAS GOLDMARK ("GOLDMARK") is identified on ICI emails to investors as, "Chief Trading Officer" and has a business address of 530 Lytton Avenue, 2nd Floor, Palo Alto, California 94301.

STATEMENT OF FACTS

4. On or about September 1, 2015, the Commission received information from an Alabama resident that ICI operated and maintained an online website, www.investingCI.com, in which representatives of ICI execute trades in binary options on behalf of client investors. Binary options trades differ from conventional options contracts, in that the payout will depend entirely on the outcome of a yes/no proposition. The yes/no proposition typically relates to whether or not the price of a particular asset that underlies the binary option will rise above or fall below a specified amount at a specific time.

5. Unlike other types of options, a binary option does not give the holder the right to purchase or sell the underlying asset. Instead, when a binary option expires, the option holder will receive either an amount of cash or nothing at all. Because of the all-or-nothing payout structure, these binary options are often referred to as “all-or-nothing options” or “fixed-return options.”

6. Upon registering for an account, the Alabama resident was contacted by ICI personnel who advised of a minimum investment of $250 with a maximum of two trades per day on the account. In an email to the investor, GOLDMARK advised that the trades made by the representatives are insured, against loss, with ICI.

7. According to the website instructions, clients can monitor their account by logging onto the ICI website and view the entry date, the asset, what type of trade (puts or calls), expiration date and the payout. The investor had no input as to what their funds were invested in, how much would be invested per trade, or when to withdraw the funds.

8. The Alabama investor established an account with ICI and on July 23, 2015, deposited $450 into the new account. The account was monitored online which reflected that the Alabama investor’s funds were traded by ICI representatives in put and call positions re: Boeing stock, Apple stock, and precious metals such as gold and silver.

9. Following the initial investment, representatives of ICI contacted the Alabama investor, via email, urging the investor to make additional investments. On August 27, 2015, the Alabama investor withdrew an additional $6,000 from a separate 401(k) account and deposited the funds into the online ICI account via a VISA debit card. The Alabama investor’s account quickly reflected a substantial increase in value based on the trades performed by ICI representatives.

10. In December, 2015, the Alabama investor contacted an individual who identified themselves as GOLDMARK, via email, and requested to make a withdrawal from the ICI account. Shortly after making the request the Alabama investor discovered the account lost $27,043 on one trade and was reduced to zero. The Alabama investor emailed GOLDMARK for an explanation as to how this loss occurred since the investor was told previously, by GOLDMARK in an email, that the trades were insured. An individual who identified themselves as GOLDMARK responded that the trades were not insured, but that ICI would match the amount of any new deposits the investor placed into the account. GOLDMARK then solicited the investor to deposit an additional $27,000 and pledged that ICI would match the amount.

11. During the Commission's investigation of ICI, numerous other investors throughout the United States and the United Kingdom, were interviewed and related a similar story. Each stated that their ICI accounts value increased rapidly until they requested to make a withdrawal. Upon attempting to withdrawal either all or part of their funds, their account value went to zero after ICI personnel placed the entire amount on one trade and in which the entire account amount was lost.

12. An investigation of the bank accounts for ICI revealed that the invested funds were deposited into an account controlled solely by BERK.

13. On November 4, 2015, a search of the registration files maintained by the Commission revealed that neither ICI, BERK nor GOLDMARK are registered to conduct business in the securities industry in Alabama.

14. On November 4, 2015, an online search of the website for the Commodity Futures Trading Commission revealed that neither ICI, BERK nor GOLDMARK were registered to conduct futures trading.

This Order is appropriate in the public interest for the protection of investors and is consistent with the purposes of the Act.
