About the ASC

The ASC mission is to protect investors from securities fraud and preserve legitimate capital markets in Alabama.

The Alabama Securities Commission is committed to providing the strongest possible investor protection and promoting the financing of legitimate business and industry in the state. The ASC will continue to apply all its resources and expertise to ensure fair and transparent markets for Alabama investors. Through the active enforcement of securities laws, including licensing, registration, examination and audits, Alabama’s capital markets remain safeguarded for investors and the business marketplace.

Statutory Authority

The Commission is responsible for administering and enforcing the laws of State of Alabama relative to:

Sec. 8-6-1, et seq. - Securities Act No. 740 (1969 Regular Session) and as amended

Sec. 8-6-110, et seq. - Industrial Revenue Bonds Act

Sec. 8-7a-1, Alabama Monetary Transmission Act

Sec 8-6-170-179, Protection of Vulnerable Adults from Financial Exploitation Act

Sec 41-9-85, et seq., Lisa’s Law Act

The Commission’s authority extends to any activity involving issuance, offering, sale, and other related transactions involving securities made within, into, or from the State of Alabama.

The purpose of the Securities Act is to protect investors from fraud and to preserve legitimate capital markets. In order to accomplish these objectives, the legislature authorizes the following methods:

Requiring the registration of, or the specific exemption from registration of securities prior to their public or private offer of sale;

Requiring the registration of Broker/Dealers and agents and regulation of their activities;

Requiring the registration of Investment Advisers and Investment Adviser Representatives and regulation of their activities;

Providing certain civil remedies to purchasers of securities sold in violation of the Acts;

Providing administrative, civil, and criminal penalties for those who participate in the unlawful sale of securities.
Statutory Authority

The Commission’s Director reviews Industrial Revenue Bonds (Pre-issuance Procedure for Industrial Revenue Bonds) from any county, city, town, municipality, or public corporation issuing industrial revenue bonds under the authorizing act. The Director may take actions as outlined by the Act if there is a reasonable probability that the bonds will be deficient, the project may not be completed, the principal or interest may not be paid when due, sold or distributed by the parties or in a manner as to constitute a fraud.

The Commission regulates and enforces the laws relating to the transmission of monetary value (Alabama Monetary Transmission Act). This includes the transmission of digital assets such as bitcoin, the regulation of money transmission methods such as stored value cards, the electronic transmission of money, bill payment services as well as more traditional transmission methods such as money orders.

The Protection of Vulnerable Adults from Financial Exploitation Act mandates reporting to the Alabama Securities Commission and the Alabama Department of Human Resources by “qualified individuals” (agents, investment adviser representatives, and persons who serve in a supervisory, compliance, legal, or member capacity of a broker-dealer or investment adviser) who reasonably believe that financial exploitation of a vulnerable adult may have occurred, may have been, or is being attempted.

The Commission administers Lisa’s Law which pertains to acquiring property or income obtained by a convicted individual that was generated from the crime of which the individual was convicted. The Commission, acting on behalf of a victim of a crime, may apply for any and all provisional remedies that are also otherwise available to the victim.

Through its legislative mandate, the Commission assists Alabama businesses during capital formation and protects Alabama issuers, businesses, and residents from fraudulent securities transactions. The Commission does not recommend or endorse broker/dealer firms, salesmen, investment adviser firms, representatives, or the purchase of any securities, nor does it pass upon the accuracy or completeness of any prospectus, private placement memorandum or sales literature.
ASC Purpose

The Alabama Securities Commission (the “Commission”) administers and enforces the following Alabama statutes: The Alabama Securities Act, The Industrial Revenue Bond Act, The Alabama Monetary Transmission Act, The Pre-Issue Procedures for Industrial Revenue Bonds, Protection of Vulnerable Adults from Financial Exploitation Act, and Lisa’s Law. The Commission is comprised of seven Commissioners, consisting of the Attorney General, the Superintendent of Banks, the Commissioner of Insurance, two State Bar Association licensed attorneys and two Certified Public Accountants.

The Commission is functionally divided into the following seven divisions: (1) Directorate; (2) Legal; (3) Accounting/Personnel; (4) Information Technology; (5) Education and Public Affairs; (6) Enforcement; (7) Licensing and Registration/Audits and Examinations.

The function of the Commission is to regulate the sale of securities and the securities industry when conducting business in Alabama. The Commission’s jurisdiction encompasses all securities offered, issued or sold within, into, or from Alabama or to Alabama residents. The Securities Act requires the registration of all securities offered for sale in Alabama unless otherwise exempted. The Securities Act provides a series of exemptions to cover situations where, because of the nature of the security or the characteristics of the transaction, registration is not deemed to be necessary in the public interest or for the protection of investors. The ASC retains anti-fraud authority with respect to securities exempt from registration.

With regard to the responsibility for regulating the securities industry in Alabama, the Commission maintains as its primary objective the encouragement of investor protection and confidence in the investment industry. In this respect, all persons who propose to act as broker-dealers, agents (registered representatives), investment advisers or associated persons (investment adviser representatives) must be registered by the Commission prior to engaging in such activities.

The Alabama Monetary Transmission Act codifies a broad definition of monetary transmissions to include “virtual” currency such as bitcoin, and specifies records that licensees are required to maintain. The Act grants the Commission administrative authority to audit/review the records of any licensee, including individuals, officers, directors and other persons who may control the actions of the licensee. Additionally, licensees are required to maintain a surety bond to cover potential compensation to any person damaged by any failure to comply with the law or by any breach of conditions. The law also codifies the Commission’s authority and powers to regulate money transmitters, including administrative and civil causes of action and establishes criminal penalties for violation of the Act.

The Commission’s functions also include preclearance of industrial revenue bonds, the investigations of alleged violations of the provisions of the above-referenced statutes together with the initiation of administrative, civil and criminal proceedings and case referrals to other agencies where appropriate.

The primary purposes of the regulatory responsibilities and objectives described above is to protect the public from fraudulent practices in connection with the offer, sale, and purchase of securities in Alabama and to promote the financing of legitimate business and industry in the state.

The Alabama Securities Commission (ASC) is committed to protecting Alabama residents and businesses from deceptive and illegal practices associated with offers, sales and purchases of securities and securities-related services in Alabama. The agency’s five divisions are tasked with carrying out this goal: registration, auditing, enforcement, legal and education. The ASC strives to continually refine and strengthen its role as an advocate for Alabama’s main street investors. By protecting Alabama investors, the ASC preserves and encourages legitimate capital markets in the State.

Key Events/Issues ASC Protecting Investors Against Securities Fraud

Enforcement investigations and legal actions to fight white collar crime targeting Alabamians could not stop during the pandemic. Our investigators and attorneys interviewed complainants by telephone or in-person practicing safe distancing and wearing masks according to the Governor’s and the Center for Disease Control guidelines. Although court dates have been severely impacted, our Legal Division has continually prepared to prosecute offenders in violation of Alabama and other pertinent laws that regulate the securities industry.

We have kept pace with citizen outreach by switching to virtual computer platforms. The ASC staff participates in Zoom, WebEx, Microsoft Teams, and other software platforms to encourage continued training of staff and provide/share training with citizens and other securities regulators in North America.

The Commission took on and successfully met the challenge to maintain outstanding customer services and productivity during this fiscal year despite uncertainty brought about by the pandemic.
Precious Metals; A Top Threat to Alabama Investors

A major threat to Alabamians are investment schemes pitched through the Internet and social media, particularly those involving precious metals. In March, the ASC, other state regulators, and the Commodity Futures Trading Commission filed a joint civil enforcement action against Metals.com, Tower Equity, Chase Metals, Barrick Capital, and associated parties. The defendants are accused of perpetrating a fraudulent precious metals investment scheme. The case is significant – it involves 1600 investors and more than $185 million in customer funds nationwide with over $5 million from Alabama investors.

Accomplishments and Office/Division Functions

In FY 2020-2021 ASC generated $13,937,725 for the General Fund. This fiscal year, the demand for services increased as fluctuating stock markets continued to surge in trading volume and overall value. ASC maintains a high level of efficiency by applying proven management techniques, efficient performance of duties, effective use of available technologies and adherence to financial and budget guidelines. The ASC is sensitive to the concerns and long-term financial security of Alabamians, whether individuals or small businesses, and must act quickly and decisively when misleading or illegal practices undermine confidence in our financial markets. When Alabama securities laws are believed to have been violated, the ASC’s Enforcement Division takes the lead in conducting complex investigations in response to complaints or evidence of alleged securities fraud.

Our highly trained and experienced veteran investigators (special agents) use their law enforcement experience to collect and analyze large quantities of complex information ranging from paper records to sophisticated electronic data.

Special agents closely examine investor complaints concerning suspicious, deceptive, unsuitable and/or illegal investment offerings including Ponzi, pyramid, foreign currency, oil and gas, precious metals and private placement within, into or from Alabama, as well as the sale of fraudulent and unregistered investment products. Special Agents coordinate their investigations with the Commission’s Legal Division and, when appropriate, with local, state and federal authorities to thoroughly examine complaints, analyze financial transactions and bring legal action against any person or business entity suspected of being in violation of the Alabama Securities Act and/or applicable federal laws.
Director’s Report

The strong efforts and expertise of the Enforcement Division, during the past five years, resulted in an average of 9 criminal indictments each FY for the violation of laws regulating the securities industry. This fiscal year, the Division’s hard work resulted in $14,285,160.45 ordered in restitution for victims from prosecuted cases; 2 arrests; 5 convictions; and helped secure 46 years of incarceration and 32 years of probation directly related to sentences for defendants found in violation of laws regulating the securities industry.

The Registration Division is charged with the initial and ongoing licensing registration process for individuals and firms that market and sell securities and financial services to Alabama residents. Any person or firm that offers and/or sells securities or provides investment advice within, into or from Alabama must be registered with the ASC in order to legally conduct business. In FY 2020-2021, the registration division issued 195,331 registrations, licenses and exemptions. The Registration Division is also responsible for the processing of fees associated with applications and renewals.

The Auditing and Examinations Division is responsible for conducting a full schedule of on-site routine and for-cause examinations. Every three years on average, the division auditors examine each of the state-regulated investment advisers domiciled in Alabama, while continuing to audit broker-dealers, their branch offices, and monetary transmission agents on a for-cause basis. The audit program identifies serious securities violations, as well as potential weaknesses in sales practices, in order to help strengthen these businesses’ compliance programs and to protect Alabama investors. The division also conducts limited joint audits with other states for complex audits and enforcement investigations. In Fiscal Year 2020-2021, the Auditing and Examinations Division conducted 59 audits, with 3 of these being for-cause examinations driven by investigations, customer complaints or licensing issues.

The Commission firmly believes that investor education and fraud prevention training can assist in shielding our citizens from being victimized by financial criminals. The Education and Public Affairs Division conducted an average of 77 events annually throughout the state for the last decade, including presentations for social, civic and professional groups, and manages a statewide and national news media program. Many events were postponed because of the pandemic, but will be rescheduled next year.

During Fiscal Year 2020-2021, the Education and Public Affair’s Division supported 71 events that provided direct outreach and education to Alabama investors. The Division helped acquire grant money from the Investor Protection Trust (IPT). These funds help provide personal finance and investor education events for teachers, students of all ages, as well as for senior Alabamians concerned with the protection of their life savings. Additionally, programming is provided for industry professionals, social workers, nurses, first responders and other professionals as requested. Further information on ASC

Investor Education and Fraud Prevention programs are described on pages 27 through 39.

Although COVID-19 continues to impact the number of events, ASC staff adapt and ensure investor education is available for residents of Alabama. ASC Public Affairs division collaborated with great partners such as AARP, BBB, SEC, and FINRA in tele-town halls. ASC also participated in AARP/WSFA virtual fraud hotline and many other virtual events.

The Legal Division is comprised of highly skilled and dedicated attorneys whom are assisted by two full-time paralegals and a legal research assistant. The Legal Division possesses over 100 years combined legal and prosecutorial experience and is responsible for investigating and prosecuting fraudulent and illegal actions by individuals and companies in the offering and sale of securities within, into or from the State of Alabama including any related activities in violation of the Alabama Securities Act and associated statutes. The ASC Legal Division prosecutes administrative, civil and criminal actions brought by the Commission and renders legal opinions and no-action letters related to issues of law pursuant to the Alabama Securities Act. The division also acts as in-house legal counsel for all legal issues concerning the daily operations of the Commission staff, including investigations and personnel issues, and acts as liaison with other government agencies when legal matters of common interest arise. The legal staff works closely with district attorneys throughout Alabama to assist in the investigation and prosecution of white-collar crime. ASC attorneys consult with other states on legal issues involving overlapping jurisdictions and aid federal prosecutors, the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC), the Commodity Futures Trading Commission (CFTC), the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority (FINRA) and others to assure that Alabama’s main street investors are afforded maximum protection from investment fraud.

The Accounting and Personnel Division is charged with effecting the continued smooth operation of the agency’s fiscal and employee-related requirements. The division provides for the overall sound financial operation of the agency, including preparation of the annual budget and operations plan, supervising the gathering and maintenance of all financial records and reports, assuring propriety of agency expenditures and budgetary controls, maintenance of personnel and payroll records and is accountable for all physical inventory. The division cooperates with the Examiners of Public Accounts to ensure the Commission is in strict fiscal compliance with the Code of Alabama. Historically, the division has received a perfect “Property Inventory” audit and constantly strives to make certain that the Commission’s property and monetary resources are used and maintained for greatest benefit of Alabama citizens.

The Information Technology (IT) Division provides technology services to support the Commission’s daily operations. Division personnel work diligently to provide efficient support, infrastructure, technologies, and services to ASC personnel to facilitate the Commission’s mission. The IT Division works to strengthen compliance and information security through standardization and documentation and to secure the utilization and storage of sensitive information. The maintenance of the agency’s computer hardware and software systems including constant information exchange with national databases covering financial professionals and firms through the national Central Registration Depository (CRD) and Investment Adviser Registration Depository (IARD).

The ASC teamed up with SHORT the Squirrel creators Dr. Dee Bennett and Mrs. Monica Young to develop SHORT’S Money Tree a financial education resource for first graders in Alabama. The book follows SHORT through the decision-making process of what to buy at the schoolbook fair. He doesn’t have enough acorns to purchase everything he wants. So, he chats with his friends, other woodland creatures, and the school librarian who teach him some valuable lessons about saving, hard work and even investing. Organizations/businesses interested in sponsoring a school to provide this resource can contact the Education and Public Affairs Division at 1-800-222-1253.

ASC’s back-to-school cyber rules

• Update the software on all your devices (new and old tablets, smartphones, and computers).

• Secure your internet network and change the generic password that comes with the router.

• Strengthen your password by making it at least 12 characters or longer and add numbers.

• Use two-factor authentication when logging into accounts containing personal information, especially financial accounts.

• Exercise extreme caution when using a free Wi-Fi network. Hackers can set up decoy networks that appear to be legitimate networks in hotels, restaurants, and coffee shops, which allows them to see and record your activity.

• If you receive an email from an unknown sender (even if the details appear accurate), do not respond, and do not click on any links or attachments found in that email. Instead, call to verify the information.

• Slow down and think before you click. Many phishing emails attempt to create a sense of urgency, causing the recipient to fear their account or information is in jeopardy.

Chief Deputy Director
Amanda Senn live on WSFA.

• Be cautious of generic greetings such as “Hello Investor,” as these are often signs of phishing attempts. If you are concerned about the legitimacy of an email, call the company directly.

• Never give out personal information, account numbers, and passwords to anyone, especially in response to unsolicited emails, text messages, or phone calls for the information.
ASC staff participated in a virtual fraud phone bank coordinated by AARP and airing live on WSFA.

Alabama residents were able to call in and ask questions about scams and speak to experts.

Over 200 callers were supplied with information on how to protect themselves from financial scams.
Senior Outreach

Senior Protection

It is estimated that fraudsters stole nearly $1 Billion from seniors during 2020. The ASC is committed to providing financial education to seniors in Alabama and helping end the financial exploitation of older adults.

Common Scams targeting seniors

Scams to watch out for:
- Romance scams
- Precious metals investment scams
- Gift card scams
- Grandparent scams
- Fake lottery scams

Educational materials

NASAA involvement

The Commission continues its membership with the North American Securities Administrators Association (NASAA). NASAA is the oldest international organization devoted to investor protection organized in 1919. NASAA is a voluntary association whose membership consists of 67 state, provincial, and territorial securities administrators in the 50 states, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico, the U.S. Virgin Islands, Canada, and Mexico.

As a NASAA member, the Commission joins other securities administrators in the promotion of programs focusing on investor education, information sharing, and cooperative enforcement efforts; and, in promoting uniformity of state securities requirements and other actions necessary for effective state and federal securities regulation.

The following ASC staff members participated in NASAA project groups and/or committees:

Victims’ Service Officer

This year, the Commission received 151 reports of possible financial exploitation. Of the reports, 41 were investigated by the Enforcement Division. There were 20 reports that did not need to be referred or investigated. The remaining 90 reports were reviewed and referred to local authorities. Approximately, 138 reports were received directly via the adult protect email provided to financial firms. The other 13 reports were received via phone call.

The ASC’s Victim Services Officer (VSO) and the Department of Human Resources (DHR) receive intake of financial exploitation reports. Once a report is received, the VSO will review it to determine if it is within the jurisdiction of the Commission. If the report is within the Commission’s jurisdiction, it will be assigned to a special agent. The VSO will make visits to the victim(s), phone call(s) to family and set up interview times for victims if needed. The VSO will periodically visit victims during the duration of the investigation to educate them about scams and to relay financial exploitation information as it relates specifically to their case. The VSO also assists with prosecution and trial prep by helping to schedule victim interviews and share the case status with victims.

The VSO works collaboratively with local authorities by sending referral letters when necessary. Additionally, the VSO will contact the county DHR worker to share information regarding ongoing cases. If you suspect financial exploitation, you can contact the Commission at 1-800-222-1253 or complete the Adult Financial Exploitation form available on our website under the Enforcement section at www.asc.alabama.gov.

Protecting Alabama’s Seniors
MONTGOMERY, ALABAMA (Tuesday, October 27, 2020) - In recognition of National Cyber Security Awareness Month (October), the Alabama Securities Commission (ASC) is issuing an alert to warn Alabama investors of imposter scams. Unlike trick or treaters, cybercriminals will not don obvious costumes and come knocking. They are masters of disguise and always conceal their motives.

Cybercriminals do not go door to door. They strategically prey on vulnerable investors that are socially isolated, unemployed or trying to make ends meet during this tumultuous season due mostly to Covid-19. These cyber con artists disguise their websites by using stock photos of attractive models, celebrity testimonials and falsely claiming they have been awarded government contracts. They also use social media accounts and advertisements to trick victims. Then, they cheat investors out of thousands of dollars, install ransomware on devices or drain investment and bank accounts.

“Fraudsters exploit technology to the detriment of Alabama investors. Through cautious decision making and thorough research, investors can protect their assets,” said ASC Director Joseph P. Borg.

Alabamians can unmask cybercriminals by remembering these tips:

- Slow down and be cautious when clicking on a link or download button,
- A government agency will never contact you by email, request a wire transfer or ask you to purchase gift cards as payment,
- When visiting a financial website do not click on “pop-ups” or links sent via email that say they will take you to your bank or investment company. Instead type in the address your self and directly visit the website,
- Never give someone who initiates contact with you claiming to be “running updates” or “fixing bugs” remote control of your electronics,
- Downloading files and visiting websites sent to you via email, social media or text message is dangerous,
- Never give out personal information over the internet, even if someone claims to be from a bank or another financial institution,
- Generic greetings such as “Hello Investor” or “Hello User” are red flags,
- Avoid using public Wi-Fi and
- If you didn’t enter a contest or lottery, you didn’t win it.

“A great strategy for protecting your money in the digital era is to remember that fraudsters play on fear. From behind a screen they use deception to trick you into purchasing an investment that, in a different emotional state, you would never have considered,” said ASC Chief Deputy Amanda Senn.
MONTGOMERY, ALABAMA (Tuesday, December 1, 2020) - The elf on the shelf is Santa's eyes and ears around the home and that is how he knows who goes on the naughty or the nice list. Your elf made a special call to the Alabama Securities Commission (ASC) and said that you have been answering spoof calls. While that offense will not merit your name on the naughty list, answering spoof calls may harm your wallet or retirement savings. To protect Alabamians this holiday season the ASC is providing a list of best tips to protect yourself from fraudulent calls.

Tip No. 1: Identify the caller. If you do not know who is calling, send it to voicemail. This is your best protection. Scamsters can fake their phone number (called spoofing) and make it look like it is from your area code. If you are expecting a delivery or medical test results, ask the service provider to give you the number they will be calling from and put it into your phone in advance.

Tip No. 2: Never give out sensitive information over the phone. Remember, a government agency and financial institution will not call and ask you to verify your social security number or bank account information. If someone calls claiming to be from the IRS, another government agency or your bank, hang up. Find their real phone number to call by going to their official website or find it on your last statement.

Tip No. 3: A legitimate investment opportunity does not require you to “act now.” If someone calls claiming they have a “can't lose investment opportunity, but you must act now” hang up. All investing involves risk.

Remember, a good deal today will usually be a good deal tomorrow. When considering an investment product or researching a financial professional you would like to hire, your first step should be calling the ASC at 1-800-222-1253 to ensure they are both registered. Also, you may request a free background check on the financial professional.

Tip No. 4: Register your number on the national do not call register. You can register your phone number with the FTC here. According to the FTC, if you are on this registry it is illegal for a company to call you with a sales pitch unless you are a previous customer. Once you are registered, anyone calling you and attempting to make a sale is already breaking the law. This will reduce the number of unwanted calls you receive, it will not stop them all.

Tip No. 5: Do not make charitable donations over the phone. It is always a good idea to research an organization before donating money. Ask the caller for written information and the organization's Federal Tax Identification Number. If they become hostile or pressure you to give, hang up the phone. Before you give, it may be wise to research charities at: www.charitynavigator.org; www.guidestar.org; www.IRS.gov (federal tax exempt status) or the Better Business Bureau's www.give.org.

The ASC wishes you safe and happy holidays!

Alabama Securities Commission Welcomes Former U.S. Attorney Louis Franklin, Sr. as Deputy Director of Enforcement

MONTGOMERY, ALABAMA (April 1, 2021) - Joseph P. Borg, Director of the Alabama Securities Commission (ASC), announced today that Louis V. Franklin, Sr. has joined ASC as Deputy Director of Enforcement. Deputy Director Louis Franklin, Sr. was the U.S. Attorney for the Middle District of Alabama from September 14, 2017 through February 28, 2021.

Deputy Director Franklin joined the U.S. Attorney’s Office for the Middle District of Alabama in 1990 as an Assistant United States Attorney. He held many leadership positions, including head of the office’s major drug trafficking task force, chief of the criminal division, and acting U.S. Attorney, culminating with his nomination and confirmation to serve as the United States Attorney for the Middle District of Alabama. Franklin received his undergraduate degree from the University of Alabama, a master’s degree from Auburn University at Montgomery, and his law degree from Howard University.

“We are delighted to announce Louis Franklin as the Deputy Director of Enforcement. His expertise will contribute to our steadfast commitment to hold fraudsters accountable when they try to profit from deceiving Alabama investors,” said Director Borg. “ASC has one of the strongest enforcement divisions in the nation. Louis leading that division is great news for the citizens of Alabama, but bad news for those plotting to steal from Alabama investors.”

“As U.S. Attorney for the Middle District of Alabama, Louis was a key player in combating securities fraud,” said Chief Deputy Director Amanda Senn. “We are excited that Louis will continue these efforts on behalf of Alabamians and we welcome his tenacity and expertise as we continue the crusade to protect Alabama investors.”

Unregistered Agent Selling Healthcare Securities Stopped by Alabama Securities Commission

MONTGOMERY, ALABAMA (December 16, 2020) - The Alabama Securities Commission (ASC) announces that Charlton “Chip” Claude Wilson II plead guilty to acting as an unregistered agent in Madison County, Alabama. The offense is a class C felony. Wilson was sentenced to a two-year prison sentence, suspended, provided he pays restitution, and five years of probation to begin immediately. The court ordered Wilson to pay $25,088.75 in restitution to three victims. The Honorable Judge D. Alan Mann of the 23rd Judicial Circuit presided over the case.

Wilson violated Alabama securities law when he failed to register with the ASC as an agent and sold stock in My 180 Health, a rehab and healthcare facility, to three Madison County residents. The Madison County investors became concerned with the representations made to them about the investment. The investors filed a complaint with the ASC against Wilson for keeping some of the funds as a commission instead of all of it going toward the investment. The fact that Wilson kept commissions put him in violation of Alabama securities laws.

“The State of Alabama and its residents succeed when justice is served and repayment of lost funds is required,” said ASC Director Joseph P. Borg. “There is a reason, and it is to protect investors, that agents have to be registered with the Alabama Securities Commission.”

Alabama residents can protect their assets by contacting the ASC at 1-800-222-1253, before investing, to check out individuals offering financial advice for a fee or selling securities. Most investments must be registered with the Commission and a red flag of investment fraud is an unregistered security. To learn more about current scams and how to protect yourself from victimization visit www.asc.alabama.gov.

“Victims may not have visible injuries, but the monetary loss and emotional trauma caused by these crimes are very real,” said Director Borg. “It is a great privilege to seek restitution for Alabama residents.”

Unregistered Agent Touting Banking System Expertise Ousted by Alabama Securities Commission

MONTGOMERY, ALABAMA (December 17, 2020) - Tuscaloosa County District Attorney Hays Webb and The Alabama Securities Commission (ASC) announce that Allison Hunt Creighton plead guilty to acting as an unregistered agent in Tuscaloosa County, Alabama. The offense is a class C felony. Creighton was sentenced to a fifteen year and a day prison sentence with the first three years to be served through the Tuscaloosa County Community Corrections Program and the remaining twelve years and a day to be served on probation. The court ordered Creighton to pay $10,000.00 in restitution to an investor, and as a condition of the sentence Creighton must continue to make restitution, amounting to $95,000, ordered in a prior unregistered agent case. The Honorable Judge Brad Almond of the 6th Judicial Circuit presided over the case.

Creighton violated Alabama securities law when she failed to register with the ASC as an agent and sold two investment contracts to a St. Clair County resident. Creighton represented that she had in-depth knowledge of the banking system that would allow her to turn a profit on the investment. The investor filed a complaint with the ASC against Creighton after learning Creighton was keeping investment funds as remuneration. By keeping some of the investment as remuneration, Creighton violated Alabama securities laws prohibiting unregistered agents from receiving compensation for providing investment advice.

“In every instance of illegal securities activity, the Alabama Securities Commission will seek justice for and protect Alabama investors. As a repeat offense, Creighton’s conduct warranted more severe punishment,” said ASC Director Joseph P. Borg. “Registration laws exist to ensure that people who are offering securities demonstrate that they have the requisite expertise, have made themselves known to the public, and are not con artists. We hope this sentence deters others.”

Alabama residents can protect their assets by contacting the ASC at 1-800-222-1253, before investing, to check out individuals offering financial advice for a fee or selling securities. Most investments must be registered with the Commission and a red flag of investment fraud is an unregistered security. To learn more about current scams and how to protect yourself from victimization visit www.asc.alabama.gov.
MONTGOMERY, ALABAMA (December 18, 2020) - The Alabama Securities Commission (ASC) has ordered Queensway Capital Corporation (Queensway) and its Vice President Jan Frank Tatman (Tatman), also known as Jan Van Auben, to cease and desist from offering or selling investments to citizens of Alabama. Queensway and Tatman violated the Alabama Securities Act because they and their product were not registered with the ASC as required by law. Queensway and Tatman claim to have a business address in Woodland Hills, California.

In 2015, an Alabama resident discovered that family members were receiving dividend payments on an investment in Queensway products—an investment that they believed was legitimate and quite profitable. The family’s positive comments about the investment opportunity led the Alabama resident to reach out to Tatman to request information about his company and products. Tatman responded with an agreement letter outlining how the “Time Deposit Accounts” work. The letter explains that if the investor adheres to the terms of the agreement, the investor will benefit from compound interest earnings and the investment will exceed returns of other investments, including stocks, bonds, and mutual funds. The “time deposit” would earn 9% in interest during the first maturity period of two years, and during the second maturity period the interest rate would increase, regardless of the prevailing market conditions.

Based on the information provided, the Alabama resident invested $63,000 in October of 2015. Later, in 2018, the investor requested a financial statement from the company and sought to liquidate his investment. Tatman responded that the investment funds would not be available until October 2019. As of the date of this Order, the investor has not received the funds nor reached Tatman.

“There is no investment that is risk-free, and higher rates of return generally equate to higher risks. This investment touted a 9% return claiming it would outpace the stock market, and that just sounds ‘too good to be true’,” said ASC Director Joseph P. Borg.

ASC Chief Deputy Director Senn warns, “Before you invest, call us at 1-800-222-1253 and verify that the person making the offer and their products are registered as required by Alabama’s securities laws. Neither Tatman nor Queensway were registered to offer investments in Alabama, a simple check with the ASC before investing may have prevented a significant financial loss.”

MONTGOMERY, ALABAMA (December 29, 2020) - The Alabama Securities Commission (ASC) issued cease and desist orders to three cyber investment companies and their respective agents for violations of the Alabama Securities Act. The companies, their agents, and the offers were not properly registered as required by law in Alabama.
Announcements, Investor Alerts & Enforcement Actions

CD-2020-0019: CRYPTOBRAVOS purports to be an online crypto trading and cloud mining company based in Chicago, Illinois. Nathan Lewis (LEWIS) and Grant Richards (RICHARDS) are both from San Francisco, California, and are agents of CRYPTOBRAVOS. LEWIS and RICHARDS assisted an Alabama resident in trading Bitcoin by providing a Bitcoin wallet maintained by CRYPTOBRAVOS. The Alabama resident was told that the company conducts “trades” with the funds held in the wallet. Instead of trading the funds, CRYPTOBRAVOS transferred all the funds to different Bitcoin wallets and cut off communication with the Alabama resident. The resident has likely lost a total of $180,000 that was invested into CRYPTOBRAVOS from January 2020 through August 2020.

CD-2020-0021: Ronald Scott (SCOTT) from Wilmington, Delaware, purports to be a business start-up and investment consultant using the domain “mail-shops.com” (MAIL-SHOPS). SCOTT solicited numerous Alabama residents to participate in various investment “opportunities,” including real estate, oil and gas, bioenergy, automobile, aviation, and manufacturing in December 2020. SCOTT represented that he had access to private investors looking to generate a good return on their private investment portfolios. This representation was a scam and MAIL-SHOPS is no longer a functional website.

CD-2020-0022: ASIC BITPRO (BITPRO) claims to be a cryptocurrency cloud mining company operating from Winnfield, Louisiana. Sally Baker (BAKER) and Linda Copeland (COPELAND) are from Montgomery, Alabama, and represent themselves as investment specialists at BITPRO. Klaus Gunter (GUNTER) from Birmingham, Alabama, portrays himself as an investment broker with BITPRO. BITPRO and Baker solicited an Alabama resident to invest in a cloud mining platform represented to generate daily returns of $2,491 via social media in December 2020. The investor was directed to the BITPRO website. BITPRO social media platforms revealed false and misleading profiles and images of BAKER, GUNTER, and COPELAND to attract investors. BITPRO obtained pictures of real unsuspecting people from the internet and posted their photos to the BITPRO website. The website states a $1,000 initial investment would generate a total return of about 840% for the 30-day contract. Representations like this are false and astronomical rates of return like this are a clear red flag and are to be avoided.

ASC issued a cease a desist order CD-2020-0016 to ACIS BITPRO and Elizabeth Cummings in August 2020 for violating the Alabama Securities Act. Unfortunately, BITPRO is still using similar techniques and making fraudulent claims as of December 2020 as described in the preceding paragraph. Evidence shows BITPRO representatives are aware of the ASC’s prior order and continue to solicit investments through social media platforms. BITPRO scammers are even claiming that rival scammers issued ASC’s August 2020 cease and desist order to disrupt their business enterprise. This false representation by BITPRO scammers is further proof of their illegal and fraudulent intent toward the investing public. The prior order is a lawful order and can be easily viewed on the ASC website.

“A new stimulus package is on the way, and fraudsters are aware. Fraudsters will ramp up their efforts because of the approaching deposits. Fraudsters will make attractive offers never intending to make good on them” said ASC Director Joseph P. Borg. “Before you invest any of your money, please do your homework and verify the person and products are legitimate by Calling the ASC at 1-800-222-1253. Your stimulus money is important to you and your family, don’t give it away to a fraudster.”

ASC Chief Deputy Director Amanda Senn stated, “2020 has been a trying year, and we hope 2021 will be better for everyone. We enjoy the traditions like eating greens and black-eyed peas to bring us luck and prosperity for the New Year. Good luck and prosperity are good things! But, if someone offers you an opportunity that is guaranteed, sounds too good to be true, and is only available for a limited time, call the ASC immediately.”

Alabama Securities Commission Makes Big Strike on Texas Based Oil & Gas Investment Scams

MONTGOMERY, ALABAMA (January 11, 2021) - The Alabama Securities Commission (ASC) issued cease and desist orders to two Texas-based companies and their representatives for oil and gas investment scams. Investors should avoid doing business with the companies and individuals outlined below.

Genesis E&P, INC., David Glass, Edward Foster and Ronnie Lee Foster (Genesis Scamsters) violated Alabama securities laws by failing to register as agents and failing to register their oil and gas investment products. The Genesis Scamsters claim their address is 1701 Shoal Creek Suite 231 Highland Village, Texas 75077. They offered an Alabama resident a fraudulent investment in acquiring a oil and gas lease to participate in drilling operations. The resident invested $111,292 in the scam, received confirmation letters memorializing their investment and, unfortunately, may have lost their entire investment.

Aschere Energy LLC, AMG Energy LLC, Leon Ali Parvizian and Alfredo Gonzalez (Aschere Energy Scamsters) also violated Alabama securities laws by failing to register with the ASC. The Aschere Energy Scamsters all have Texas addresses(1). Gonzalez, President of AMG Energy LLC, is a contracted sales agent and sold an Alabama resident an investment in Scarborough Fields Joint Venture on behalf of Aschere Energy LLC. The venture is an oil and gas drilling investment purportedly utilizing multidirectional drilling techniques. The Alabamian invested $114,178 in the scam, received confirmation letters signed by Parvizian and, unfortunately, may have lost their entire investment.

“As with any investment, proceed with caution and vigilance, but oil and gas investment scams can entice even the most seasoned investor. The opportunity to ‘hit it big’ and the excitement of striking it rich can outweigh your sense of caution and ‘gut feeling’,” said ASC Chief Deputy Director Amanda Senn. “Don’t be outwitted by the fraudsters. Always be diligent when checking out an investment opportunity. Make the ASC your first call at 1-800-222-1253 to verify the registration of anyone, and the product as required by Alabama securities law.”

Alabama law requires that most investment products and professionals register with the ASC. The vital first step when researching a financial professional and product is calling the ASC to confirm their registration. Avoid anyone claiming their investment involves no risk and is guaranteed to make you money. By nature, all investing involves risk because there are no guarantees.
Announcements, Investor Alerts & Enforcement Actions

ASC’s Con Watch website is updated regularly with postings of individuals and companies attempting to defraud the public. If you see or suspect that you fell victim to a COVID-19 related investment scam, report it to COVIDCONS@asc.alabama.gov. The ASC is Alabama’s state government securities regulatory agency. The mission of the ASC is to protect Alabamians from investment fraud and preserve legitimate capital markets in Alabama. To access investor education materials or request a virtual presentation visit the ASC’s website.

Not Every Cryptocurrency Cloud Mine Has A Silver Lining, ASC Shuts Down Two Mines

MONTGOMERY, ALABAMA (January 14, 2021) - The Alabama Securities Commission (ASC) issued cease and desist orders to two crypto cloud mining companies and one agent for violations of the Alabama Securities Act. REFLECT BITCOIN, GOLDBITMINING, and GOLDBITMINING’S Investment Consultant Liz Alioski were not properly registered to make investment offers or sell their products as required by the Alabama Securities Act.

CD-2021-001: REFLECT BITCOIN purports to be a cryptocurrency trading and cloud mining company based in the United Kingdom. An individual who identified himself as “Sabastian” solicited an Alabama resident to invest in the cryptocurrency trading platform, REFLECT BITCOIN. The Alabama resident was instructed to open several mobile banking accounts to transfer funds to a REFLECT BITCOIN wallet. The resident was told that the company conducts “trades” with the funds held in the wallet. In return, REFLECT BITCOIN would deposit the profits made from the trades into the resident’s mobile banking accounts. The resident has likely lost a total of $8,950 that was invested into REFLECT BITCOIN from August 2020 through October 2020.

CD-2021-0002: Liz Alioski (ALIOSKI) purports to be an investment consultant on behalf of GOLDBITMINING. ALIOSKI solicited investments via comments on a popular social media platform. ALIOSKI purports to be Bitcoin’s Chief Operating Officer from Birmingham, Alabama. ALIOSKI uses the same profile image used by Elizabeth Cummings, a named respondent in a recent ASC Cease and Desist Order CD-2020-0016. ASC determined that ALIOSKI is not Bitcoin’s Chief Operating Officer and is not from Birmingham, Alabama and that GOLDBITMINING could be based in Slovenia.

“People are always looking for the next ‘get rich quick’ opportunity like investing early in the next Apple or Amazon. Fraudsters use tactics like, ‘once in a lifetime’ offer, fear of missing out on a great opportunity, or ‘keep this a secret’ to lure investors into their web of deceit and financial disaster,” said ASC Director Joseph P. Borg. “REFLECT BITCOIN and GOLDBITMINING are using terms associated with the cryptocurrency industry to attract curious investors and then offer ‘too good to be true’ opportunities.”

ASC Chief Deputy Director Amanda Senn stated, “We are more vulnerable to questionable investment offers because we are spending more time on our electronic devices during the pandemic. If someone approaches you through social media, text, or email asking for money for an investment, call the ASC immediately to verify the person making you the offer and their products are properly registered by law. Giving us a call is simple and an incredibly important self-defense measure to avoid becoming a victim of a financial scam.”
Alabama Securities Commission Provides Tips to Help Investors Protect Online Accounts

MONTGOMERY, ALABAMA (February 16, 2021)- The Alabama Securities Commission today issued an investor awareness advisory providing information to help investors better understand potential threats to their online financial accounts and how to protect themselves from cybercriminals.

As financial technology has evolved, it has given consumers the ability to shop, save, and invest online using their phones, tablets, and computers. These modern financial conveniences, however, come with risk. Scammers always look for new ways to get into a consumer’s pocketbook, electronically or otherwise.

Investors should be cautious in the way they use the conveniences offered by financial technology, especially as they’ve become more widely used during the COVID-19 pandemic. A bit of caution can keep virtual distance between scammers and your money.

Some of the common threats to online accounts:

• Data Breaches- A data breach is an incident that exposes confidential or protected information, usually involving the loss or theft of private data that can be used by criminals to steal consumers’ identities and assets.
• Phishing- Phishing involves scammers using fraudulent emails, text messages, or phone calls to impersonate legitimate people and entities to trick consumers into giving out their personal information.
• Skimming- Skimming frauds involve the use of technology fraudulently installed into a debit or credit card reader, frequently at a gas pump or an ATM.
• Public Wi-Fi Scams- Many businesses and public spaces offer free wireless internet for the public to use when going about their daily lives.

Steps investors can take to better protect themselves and their financial information:

• Monitor Your Accounts- Check your bank, credit card, and brokerage account statements regularly and keep an eye out for fraudulent or suspicious transactions.
• Use Caution on Public Wi-Fi- Public Wi-Fi networks - especially unsecured public networks carry huge risks.
• Check Your Credit Reports- If an entry does not look familiar, consumers should follow up right away. Dispute entries that are fraudulent.
• Be Careful with Debit Cards- Debit cards offer fewer fraud protections than credit cards and leave your bank account vulnerable to scammers who can steal bank account information or ‘spoof’ your card.
• Speak Up if Something is Wrong- If an investor suspects something is wrong with an account statement or credit report, they should follow up with their financial institution and credit reporting agency to make sure the charge or credit report entry is accurate.

Alabama Securities Commission Announces Top Investor Threats for 2021

MONTGOMERY, ALABAMA (March 4, 2021) — The Alabama Securities Commission (ASC) in recognition of Consumer Protection Week in the United States, reminds investors to be on the lookout for investment schemes pitched through the internet and social media, particularly those involving precious metals, cryptocurrencies, promissory notes and foreign exchange markets.

Schemes related to these products were identified as the top threats facing investors this year in a survey by the North American Securities Administrators Association (NASAA), of which ASC is a member. The survey includes responses of enforcement officials with state and provincial securities regulators throughout the United States, Canada and Mexico.

The survey revealed that internet or social media-based frauds are the top threat to investors. Ranked second are cryptocurrency-related and precious metals-based investments, especially those purchased through self-directed individual retirement accounts, which lack the services and protection of traditional IRAs and can be fertile soil for scammers. Foreign exchange-related schemes rounded out the top three threats. Alabama investors have fallen prey to frauds relating to all 3 of the top threats, especially frauds perpetrated online and those involving cryptocurrencies. A recent enforcement action against a company named “Cryptobravos” details how an Alabama investor lost approximately $180,000 to fraudsters when “agents” of the company, Nathan Lewis and Grant Richards, facilitated the investor’s trades in Bitcoin by providing a Bitcoin wallet maintained by Cryptobravos. The Alabama investor was told that Cryptobravos would make the Bitcoin trades with the funds held in the wallet. Instead of trading the funds, Cryptobravos transferred all the funds to different Bitcoin wallets and then cut off communication with the Alabama resident. The Alabama resident has not recovered the money and in all likelihood will never recover the investment. A link to the Order is here: CD-2020-0019.

The NASAA survey also indicated that 82% of state and provincial securities regulators anticipate that bad actors will continue to attempt to leverage investor fear and anxiety related to changes in financial markets and the economy due to COVID-19 to illegally sell securities this year.

“Bad actors attempt to leverage vulnerabilities wherever they can be found. Don’t be lured into programs offering the promise of high returns as a way to supplement income lost as a result of the pandemic,” said ASC Director Joseph P. Borg. Investment offers that sound “too good to be true” often share similar characteristics. The most common telltale sign of an investment scam is an offer of guaranteed high returns with no risk. All investments carry the risk that some, or all, of the invested funds could be lost.

“A claim that an investment is “risk-free” is a claim made only by a con artist,” ASC Chief Deputy Director Amanda Senn said. “Investing is a long-term game. “Get-rich quick” schemes are built on empty promises and lead to empty pockets.”

Director Borg recommends that investors should always check to see if the salesperson and the investment itself are registered with the ASC. This information can be confirmed by contacting the ASC. “Working with a registered investment professional affords investors certain legal protections,” Director Borg said. “Offering to sell an investment without a license is illegal.”

Before making an investment decision, ask questions, do your homework and contact the ASC at 1-800-222-1253 for more information.

Governor Ivey Declares April as Facts on Saving and Investing Campaign Month; Alabama Securities Commission and Partners Provide Tips that Make Cents

MONTGOMERY, ALABAMA (April 1, 2021) -- Who is going to have the biggest impact on your financial future? YOU! Governor Ivey declared April Facts on Saving and Investing Campaign month in Alabama (view proclamation here). The Alabama Securities Commission (ASC) and the Alabama Jump$tart Coalition and other valued partners are providing the tips below to help you secure a more prosperous financial future. Alabamians interested in additional resources can visit the education section of the ASC website at www.asc.alabama.gov.

Who is going to have the biggest impact on your financial future? YOU! Below are four tips to help Alabamians reach their financial goals.

Tip No. 1: Budget

“Don’t try to keep up with the Jones’.” Living beyond your means is one of the biggest financial pitfalls for most Americans. The cure is to create a monthly budget and stick to it.

“Often, I hear people say that budgeting is restrictive. Truthfully, it provides assurance and freedom. Having a plan and saving for larger purchases gives you confidence. Knowing that a purchase won’t cause you to go into debt can relieve stress and help you sleep better at night,” said ASC Chief Deputy Director Amanda Senn.

The ASC offers free budgeting resources and financial information on the She Can section of the ASC website.

Tip No. 2: Pay Down Debt and Pay it Off

Another common, yet vital, practice for those wanting to make wise financial decisions is to pay off debt. To succeed you will need a plan- i.e. it’s all about the budget.

“There are multiple strategies for paying off debt, like starting with the highest interest debt first or starting with the smallest amount known as the ‘snowball’ method,” said ASC Director Joseph
Announcements, Investor Alerts & Enforcement Actions

P. Borg. “Whatever method you choose, determine to persevere and make avoiding and paying down debt a priority. It’s a challenging process, but it is well worth it!”

To make more than the monthly payment on your outstanding debts, find creative ways to cut spending in other categories. Some ideas include: switching grocery stores, pass on eating out, find roommates and avoid “I deserve it” type purchases.

Tip No. 3: Invest for Retirement

Are 401 (k), 403 (B), Roth IRA, and Traditional IRA investment terms or alphabet soup? Whether you understand the definition and tax advantages of these retirement accounts or are confused about the typos that made it to print, the ASC has free investor education resources to clarify terminologies for the beginner and increase the understanding of the seasoned investor.

Even while paying off debt, faithfully investing on a monthly basis can have significant pay offs. Dollar-cost averaging, the rule of 72 and compounding also teach that starting early is the best way to increase the size of your nest egg. Not sure you believe it? The Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) offers a free investment calculator tool that proves it.

Tip No. 4

“Once you make money you have to protect it from thieves, con artists and unsuitable financial products. The ASC offers fraud prevention materials and training seminars for groups year-round,” said Director Borg. “A great place for a beginner to start is our free guide produced in partnership with Kiplinger’s Personal Finance Magazine and the Investor Protection Trust called Starting to Save for Retirement.”

Don’t fall victim to get rich quick investment schemes, especially if they are presented as low risk opportunities. Normally, higher risk and the potential for higher profits go hand-in-hand. If you are suspicious of an investment offer, or any time before you invest check out the registration (required by law) of anyone making you an offer or charging you a fee for investment advice, and the product by calling the ASC at 1-800-222-1253.

You are Invited to Attend a Virtual Learning Event - “Investing: What’s New & What’s Not”

Join us as we talk about the various types of investment strategies, some tried and true, and some new, can help fund your retirement.

MONTGOMERY, ALABAMA (April 21, 2021) --The Alabama Securities Commission (ASC) has partnered with the Investor Protection Trust (IPT), Detroit Public Television, and PBS Books to produce “Investing: What’s New & What’s Not” a virtual event which can be viewed via livestream on ASC’s Facebook page, on Friday, April 23, 2021. at 12:00 p.m. Central Daylight Time.

The most important saving and investing goal is building a financially secure retirement, and it’s one of the most challenging goals in life. Fortunately, there are a variety of new, and not so new, investing options and strategies out there that can help. “Investing: What’s New & What’s Not” will feature qualified experts who will discuss many of the new investment options, the tried-and-true investment strategies, and how both can be part of a retirement savings plan. The event will be interactive, allowing participants to ask questions, submit comments and get answers in real time. “The ASC is proud to partner with IPT, Detroit Public Television and PBS Books to bring this financial education event to investors in Alabama,” said ASC Director Joseph P. Borg.

The “Investing: What’s New & What’s Not” virtual event will livestream on ASC’s Facebook page, on Friday, April 23, 2021, at 12:00 p.m. Central Daylight Time and will feature the following:

• Host: Fred Nahhat, Detroit Public Television
• Moderator: Donna Lowry, Georgia Public Broadcasting
• Topic Segments:
  • Smart New Investment Strategies to Try
  • Standard Steps Toward A Secure Retirement

This is the second episode of the ‘When I’m 65’ series, Boomers to Zoomers: Building A Secure
Path to Retirement, which is a yearlong series of twelve 60-minute virtual events via Facebook

MONTGOMERY, ALABAMA (June 14, 2021) - Ms. Jones* had recently and unexpectedly lost her husband when a couple she met through a mutual friend began cultivating a relationship with her. It was easy to do, as Ms. Jones was grief stricken and finding comfort in friendships. Over the course of a few months the couple had moved onto her property and, through a power of attorney, had taken control of all her assets, including her home. Ms. Jones is now battling to get her life back, and the devastating consequences will remain with her forever.

In recognition of World Elder Abuse Awareness Day tomorrow, the Alabama Securities Commission (ASC) shares this recent financial exploitation report of an Alabama woman as a reminder to Alabamians to be watchful for signs of financial exploitation.

“The ASC is committed to protecting vulnerable adults from investment fraud. Elder abuse of any kind is devasting. This month we are focusing on informing the public of the ways seniors are affected by financial abuse and how the public can play a role in preventing financial abuse”, said ASC Director Joseph P. Borg.

Ms. Jones’ report was received pursuant to the Protection of Vulnerable Adults from Financial Exploitation Act, which became law in 2016. Under the Act, financial professionals are required to report, with reasonable belief, that financial exploitation to a vulnerable adult may have occurred, has been attempted, or is being attempted. Essentially, the legislation targets the wrongful or unauthorized taking, withholding, use, conversion or control of money, assets, or property of a vulnerable adult. This legislation is a powerful mechanism to ensure that suspicious financial activity is reported. Reports from the financial community and the general public are received through the ASC website, or anyone seeking to report such activity may call us to obtain the intake form.

“Anyone exploiting the financial well-being of seniors in Alabama is breaking the law.” said ASC Chief Deputy Director Amanda Senn, “Aggressive enforcement actions serve as a deterrent for fraudsters targeting Alabamians and help provide closure for victims.”

As the population of senior Alabamians increases, fraudsters have a greater opportunity to prey on vulnerable residents. You can help prevent these crimes by proactively taking notice of any unusual circumstances.

If you suspect someone may be a victim of financial abuse, ask yourself the following questions:

• Is the person in a vulnerable state of physical, mental, or emotional health?
• Has the person distanced themselves from existing relationships and started new associations with apparent strangers?
• Has a new acquaintance in their life shown a strong interest in their financial status and security?
• Are you no longer able to speak directly with the apparent victim despite repeated attempts to contact them, is someone speaking on their behalf?
Announcements, Investor Alerts & Enforcement Actions

- Is that person avoiding discussions about their financial status or financial strife?

If you answered yes to any of these questions, then their financial security may be in jeopardy. To combat the issue of elder financial abuse, the ASC urges Alabamians to keep in regular contact with older family members, friends, and neighbors. Educating your loved ones about the threat of fraudsters and scammers can minimize or prevent the risk of investment fraud.

The ASC urges those who are suspicious of possible financial elder fraud to call the ASC at 1-800-222-1253. Also contact ASC to verify the required registration of any person making you an offer and for their product. If they are not registered, hold on to your wallet! For more resources and information, visit the ASC website at www.asc.alabama.gov. To request an in person or virtual presentation to a group about how to protect yourself from financial exploitation contact the ASC at 1-800-222-1253.

ASC Encourages Clean Cyber Hygiene to Help Prevent You From Becoming A Victim Of A Ransomware Attack

MONTGOMERY, ALABAMA (June 22, 2021) - The Alabama Securities Commission (ASC) warns of an uptick in cybercrimes impacting investment accounts, particularly those involving ransomware. A ransomware attack is a type of phishing scam that attempts to obtain sensitive information or data in exchange for money, and recent publicized attacks involve gas and meat suppliers.

Hackers are not only targeting companies, but victimize computer and smartphone users. Through email and social media, hackers trick users into downloading a file, or virus, that will essentially give them control over the user’s device. They then threaten to release embarrassing information or keep the device locked until the ransom has been paid, and will often demand a hard-to-trace payment, such as a cryptocurrency or a pre-paid gift card. Stolen passwords are then used to steal money from financial and other accounts.

“We must remain vigilant in protecting our personal and financial information. Hackers can steal money without ever stepping foot in your house,” saidASC Director Joseph P. Borg. “Not protecting your online accounts is equivalent to not locking your door, don’t be surprised when your prized possessions are missing. Fraudsters can steal your life savings with just a click of a button.”

Clean cyber hygiene is about training yourself to think proactively about cybersecurity. Establishing a cybersecurity plan is key to safeguarding online investment accounts and personal information. Follow these steps to improve cyber hygiene:

- Secure your internet network and change the generic password that comes with the router.
- Strengthen your password by making it at least 12 characters or longer, and add numbers.
- Use two-factor authentication when logging into financial accounts.
- Exercise extreme caution when using a free Wi-Fi network. Hackers can set up decoy networks that appear to be legitimate networks in hotels, restaurants, and coffee shops, which allows them to see and record your activity.

• Update the software on all of your devices (tablets, smartphones, and computers).
• If you receive an email from an unknown sender (even if the details appear accurate), do not respond, and do not click on any links or attachments found in that email. Instead, call to verify the information.
• Slow down and think before you click. Many phishing emails attempt to create a sense of urgency, causing the recipient to fear their account or information is in jeopardy.
• Be cautious of generic greetings such as “Hello Investor,” as these are often signs of phishing attempts. If concerned about the legitimacy of an email, call the company directly.
• Never give out personal information, account numbers, and passwords to anyone, especially in response to unsolicited emails, text messages, or phone calls for the information.

“Always monitor investment, banking, and credit card accounts on a regular basis for suspicious activity. If you think your accounts have been compromised, change your passwords, contact third parties, including your bank, financial advisor, law enforcement authorities, and the Federal Trade Commission- which can help you develop a recovery plan- and check credit reports for further invasions. Consider putting a ‘freeze’ on your account until the extent of damage has been surveyed,” said Chief Deputy Director and Chair of the North American Securities Administrators Association Cybersecurity Committee, Amanda Senn.

Alabama Securities Commission Issues Show Cause Order to Cryptocurrency Company “BlockFi”

MONTGOMERY, ALABAMA (July 21, 2021)-Alabama Securities Commission (ASC) Director Joseph Borg today announced that the ASC has issued a Show Cause Order to cryptocurrency company “BlockFi” based in Jersey City, New Jersey. The Order gives them 28 days to show cause why they should not be directed to cease and desist from selling unregistered securities in Alabama. The securities issued by BlockFi are interest earning crypto currency accounts called BlockFi Interest Accounts (BIAs). BlockFi has raised at least $14.7 billion worldwide through the sale of these securities.

The Alabama Show Cause Order alleges that BlockFi, Inc. (“BlockFi”), through its affiliates BlockFi Lending, LLC (“BlockFi Lending”) and BlockFi Trading, LLC, has been funding its cryptocurrency lending operations and proprietary trading at least in part through the sale of unregistered securities in violation of the Securities Law.

“There are thousands of entities registered with the ASC, as required by law, to sell securities to the people of Alabama,” said Director Borg. “Most of those registered to sell securities live outside of Alabama, but anyone offering securities must be registered before making an investment offer to an Alabama resident.”

The ASC action comes amid rising concerns over the proliferation of decentralized finance platforms like BlockFi that seek to reinvent traditional financial systems such as banks and brokerages for digital asset investors. Borg said “Recognizing that technology has created a new financial frontier, Alabama has recently developed new regulations in the digital currency space. Unlike traditionally regulated banks and brokerage firms, investors’ losses are not insured against or protected by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC) or Securities Investor Protection Corporation (SIPC). As new developments occur, ASC is committed to ensuring that Alabamians are aware of the risks in this new financial space and have full protection under our laws. Further, these decentralized finance platforms, which are not currently registered or licensed, present a heightened risk of loss to investors.”

BlockFi allows investors to purchase a BIA by depositing certain eligible cryptocurrencies - including Bitcoin and Ethereum - into accounts at BlockFi. BlockFi then pools these cryptocurrency deposits together to fund its cryptocurrency lending operations and proprietary trading. In exchange for investing in the BIAs, investors are promised an attractive interest rate that is paid monthly in cryptocurrency.

The Show Cause Order alleges that, despite advertising on its website that BlockFi is a “US regulated entity”, BlockFi fails to disclose to investors that its BIAs are not registered with the ASC or any other securities regulator.

Alabama Securities Commission’s Back-to-School Cyber Rules

MONTGOMERY, ALABAMA (August 18, 2021) - The lunches are packed, new shoes were purchased and the ‘first day of school' selfie is posted. School is back in session. Parents and students alike are adjusting to new routines and the excitement that fall brings. Some students will return to a virtual classroom and many will continue to use technology, like computers, tablets and phones, in the traditional learning environment. Regardless of the location, the Alabama Securities Commission (ASC) warns that any device connected to the internet is vulnerable to hackers.

“The pandemic vastly increased our reliance on technology,” said ASC Chief Deputy Director Amanda Senn. “Fraudsters know how vital our devices are for maintaining relationships, working, and even learning and they are looking for easy targets. Don’t be the easy target.”

The high cost of personal computers means many families share electronic devices. Parents may use the laptop for online banking, while the student utilizes the school’s network in the classroom. The Cybersecurity and Infrastructure Security Agency (CISA) reports a rise in malicious cyber activity against K-12 and higher education institutions. Dual usage of devices can leave financial and personal information at risk of being compromised.

The Alabama Securities Commission (ASC) encourages parents and teachers to emphasize the importance of good cyber hygiene by following these tips:

- Update the software on all your devices (new and old tablets, smartphones, and computers).
- Secure your internet network and change the generic password that comes with the router.

- Strengthen your password by making it at least 12 characters or longer and add numbers.
- Use two-factor authentication when logging into accounts containing personal information, especially financial accounts.
- Exercise extreme caution when using a free Wi-Fi network. Hackers can set up decoy networks that appear to be legitimate networks in hotels, restaurants, and coffee shops, which allows them to see and record your activity.
- If you receive an email from an unknown sender (even if the details appear accurate), do not respond, and do not click on any links or attachments found in that email. Instead, call to verify the information.
- Slow down and think before you click. Many phishing emails attempt to create a sense of urgency, causing the recipient to fear their account or information is in jeopardy.
- Be cautious of generic greetings such as “Hello Investor,” as these are often signs of phishing attempts. If concerned about the legitimacy of an email, call the company directly.
- Never give out personal information, account numbers, and passwords to anyone, especially in response to unsolicited emails, text messages, or phone calls for the information.

“I hope Alabama students enjoyed the summer, are refreshed and excited about the many opportunities for personal development available through rigorous study and hard work,” said ASC Director Joseph Borg. “While students were enjoying the break, fraudsters were working diligently on developing their next trick. Before you send your kids to the classroom, protect your device from hackers by updating the software.”

Technology use in the classroom enriches the learning environment and provides valuable skills that can increase a student’s employability. Unfortunately, if users are not diligent hackers can gain access to personal and sensitive financial information. User error, weaknesses in outdated software and other tricks of the trade can be access points for those with malicious intent.

Alabama Securities Commission Partners with “SHORT the Squirrel” to Launch New Financial Education Program for Young Readers

MONTGOMERY, ALABAMA (September 9, 2021) - The Alabama Securities Commission (ASC) is pleased to announce the launch of a financial education program for young readers in Alabama. Through a partnership with Monica Anderson Young and Dr. Dee Bennett, the founders of the literacy initiative ‘SHORT the Squirrel’, and a grant from the Investor Protection Trust (IPT), ‘SHORT’s Money Tree’ was developed to introduce young readers to finance in a fun and understandable way. In the book, “Short” is confronted with several financial scenarios and is asked to evaluate the options, and hopefully make wise financial decisions.

The program is being piloted in Monroe and Montgomery County schools during the month of September with an anticipated statewide appearance in classrooms and businesses by April of 2022. “Short the Squirrel” will be making an appearance to promote his new book at Dalraida Elementary School on Friday, September 10 at 8:30 AM. Financial institutions and other organizations interested in sponsoring the financial education book for distribution in their field, can contact 'SHORT the Squirrel' via email at contact@shortthesquirrel.com.

“The Commission is very excited to be able to help offer this program in Alabama schools. The sooner a student begins their financial education, the less likely they are to make costly financial mistakes. We are very thankful to our partners from ‘SHORT the Squirrel’ who have helped make this program possible,” said ASC Director Joseph P. Borg.

“When ASC Director Borg approached us with the idea of combining financial dialogue with literacy, we immediately recognized a unique opportunity to reach Alabama’s young readers in two important areas. SHORT loves to help children fall in love with reading, and reading impacts future economic stability. Working with the ASC through the IPT is truly an honor,” said Bennett and Young. “We are thrilled for SHORT’s Money Tree to reach all first graders in Alabama.”

The story takes SHORT through the decision-making process of selecting items, if any, to purchase at a book fair. Each page provides students a valuable lesson on money, and also contains a financial fact for advanced readers. Students will learn the difference between wants versus needs, lessons on spending wisely, and on how delayed gratification and hard work can have big returns.

“I believe this program will be incredibly instructive for teaching our young readers valuable financial concepts because of the characters and interactive nature of the workbook. We wanted the concepts to be age appropriate, and educationally meaningful. We are delighted we could accomplish that with SHORT,” said ASC Chief Deputy Director Amanda Senn.

The ASC would like to thank the Alabama State University Tennis team and the Troy University Panhellenic groups (an organization for 26 national women’s sororities) who assisted with the project. To learn more about SHORT the Squirrel, please visit @shortthesquirrel on Instagram, Facebook, YouTube or our website, www.shortthesquirrel.com.

Alabama Securities Commission Files Court Action Against GPB Capital Holdings, LLC for Allegedly Defrauding Alabama Investors in a Nationwide $1.8 Billion Securities Scheme

MONTGOMERY, ALABAMA (February 4, 2021)- Alabama Securities Commission (“ASC”) Director Joseph P. Borg announced today that the ASC has filed a securities enforcement action against New York-based investment adviser GPB Capital Holdings, LLC (“GPB Capital”) and others for their alleged involvement in a $1.8 billion securities fraud scheme that has affected approximately 17,000 investors across the United States - including 226 Alabama investors who collectively invested over $28,000,000.

The Complaint, filed in the Circuit Court of Madison County today, alleges that GPB Capital, New York-based broker-dealer Ascendant Alternative Strategies, LLC (“AAS”), Texas-based securities marketing firm Ascendant Capital LLC, and individuals David Gentile of Florida, Jeffry Schneider of Texas, and Jeffrey Lash of Florida (collectively, “the defendants”) defrauded investors across the country who purchased limited partnership interests in various GPB-controlled private equity funds in violation of the Alabama Securities Act. Alabama joins New Jersey and New York in filing similar state court actions today alleging fraud by GPB Capital and the other defendants. In addition, Georgia, Illinois, Missouri, and South Carolina initiated similar administrative proceedings with the investigative assistance of Texas. These seven state court and administrative actions coincide with court action taken by the United States Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC"). The United States Attorney’s Office for the Eastern District of New York arrested Schneider and Lash this morning and Gentile has agreed to surrender, all on related charges.
Joint Announcements, Investor Alerts & Enforcement Actions

“The actions taken against GPB Capital and their associates should send a loud message to those who would target Alabama investors. We will protect our citizens and take all action to the fullest extent of the law,” said ASC Director Joseph P. Borg. “The damage caused by a fraud of this magnitude can be life changing for the victims and their families.”

The alleged scheme centered on the sale of unregistered, high-commission limited partnership interests in a series of alternative-asset investment funds managed by GPB Capital. The funds were targeted exclusively to “accredited investors” whose net worth or income qualified them to participate in private placement securities transactions that are exempt from SEC and state registration requirements. “With no federal or state review process for this marketplace, the lack of transparency and liquidity can be exceedingly high risk for our main street investors,” said Director Borg.

From 2013 through late 2018, the defendants allegedly lured investors in with false and misleading promises that the GPB Funds would pay an 8% annualized distribution each month. The defendants assured their investors that these monthly payments were “fully earned” or “fully covered” by the cash flow of the portfolio companies owned by the funds. The GPB Funds owned companies in the automotive retail, waste management, information technology, and healthcare sectors.

Despite their promises, the defendants increasingly relied on “Ponzi-like financing” - using new investors’ capital contributions to pay prior investors the monthly distributions. This reduced the amount of capital a GPB Fund could use to invest in new opportunities and significantly compromised the long-term value of investors’ stakes, according to allegations contained in the Complaint. To conceal their scheme, defendants also created fictitious and misleading “performance guarantees” that fraudulently inflated the reported income of some of the GPB Funds.

The defendants further harmed investors by diverting and misappropriating fund assets for their own benefit. The Complaint alleges that the defendants used fund assets to enrich themselves, pay family members, and support luxurious lifestyles at investor expense, including travel by private jet and even the purchase of a Ferrari for Gentile’s personal use.

Approximately 226 Alabama investors purchased limited partnership interests in various GPB Funds, with a total investment of more than $28.8 million.

“There is always an element of risk present when you invest. The marketing campaign that GPB Capital implemented fooled even the most seasoned financial professionals, which led to investors buying in," said Chief Deputy Director Amanda Senn. "Scrutinize every investment, particularly securities not subject to federal or state review because the potential for fraud is much greater than traditional, registered securities."

Among the unlawful conduct alleged in the Complaint:

- Gentile and Schneider did not tell investors that significant and increasing portions of the monthly distributions were secretly being paid from the investors’ own capital contributions rather than from operating profits, as promised;
- GPB Capital, Gentile, Schneider, and Lash falsified financial statements by adding fictitious performance guarantee payments which created a false appearance to investors of illusory profits earned by certain Fund auto dealerships;
- Gentile, Schneider, and Lash enriched themselves at investors’ expense by diverting money and business opportunities from certain Fund-owned auto dealerships to a shell company owned by themselves;
- Gentile, Schneider, and Lash used investor funds without investors’ knowledge for personal benefit, including private jet travel and luxury automobiles;
- Gentile and GPB Capital caused certain GPB Funds to borrow unneeded money at high interest rates from other GPB entities and to assume unwarranted liabilities; and
- Gentile, Schneider, and other Defendants paid themselves undisclosed and undeserved fees and stipends, while engaging in persistent conflicted transactions and self-dealing.

“The States involved are members of the North America Securities Administrators Association (NASAA). The States worked together to execute part of NASAA’s mission which is to protect the integrity of the financial markets across North America. The effort all the States put forth to identify and to halt any further victimization has been tremendous,” said Director Borg.

The ASC is seeking court-ordered monetary penalties, investor restitution, disgorgement, and permanent injunctive relief barring the defendants from violating the Alabama Securities Act or participating in the sale or issuance of securities in the future.

Alabama Investors In Precious Metals Scheme Involving Metals.Com, Tower Equity, Chase Metals, And Barrick Capital Urged to File Claims

CLAIM DEADLINE APRIL 30, 2021

MONTGOMERY, ALABAMA (March 15, 2021) - The Alabama Securities Commission, other state regulators, and the Commodity Futures Trading Commission recently filed a joint civil enforcement action against Metals.com, Tower Equity, Chase Metals, Barrick Capital, and other associated parties. The defendants are accused of perpetrating a fraudulent precious metals investment scheme. The case is significant – it allegedly involves 1600 investors and more than $185 million in customer funds nationwide with over $5 million of that coming from Alabama investors.
Joint Announcements, Investor Alerts & Enforcement Actions

The United States District Court for the Northern District of Texas entered an injunction and a restraining order freezing the assets of the defendants. It also appointed Kelly Crawford as Receiver – an official responsible for marshaling assets of the defendants and relief defendant for the benefit of defrauded clients.

The Receiver will begin administering the claims process. In the coming months, the Receiver will submit the claims to the court for approval to begin distribution of the available money to defrauded clients. As part of the process, the Receiver will be sending correspondence, instructions, and a claims form. Defrauded clients must complete and return their claims forms to the Receiver to receive a portion of available funds in the claims process. THE DEADLINE TO RETURN THE CLAIM FORM IS APRIL 30, 2021. The Receiver is working diligently to obtain as many assets as possible but there is no guarantee that Alabama investors will receive all of their losses.

“The ASC will continue to fight to protect senior citizens and other victims,” said Joseph P. Borg, the Director with the Alabama Securities Commission. “We are committed to holding bad actors accountable for their actions and pursuing relief for victims of illegal scams. We are therefore encouraging defrauded clients to promptly begin working with the Receiver to request a return of available funds by submitting their claims.”

Defrauded clients should direct questions about the claims process to the Receiver. They can contact the Receiver by electronic mail at kelly.crawford@solidcounsel.com or by telephone at 214-706-4213. The Receiver also maintains a website that provides information about the claims process, and it is accessible at https://www.metalsandbarrickcapitalreceivership.com.

The Alabama Securities Commission can also provide additional information and explanation relating to the allegations of fraud, the lawsuit, the receivership, and the claims process. The Alabama Securities Commission can be reached by telephone at 1-800-222-1253 or electronic mail at asc@asc.alabama.gov.

“We are committed to making sure that any available funds are distributed to the victims,” said Borg. “My office stands ready to assist Alabamians as they navigate the claims process and request a return of money.”

The amount of recovery that an investor may receive is not yet known. Orders requiring repayment of funds to victims may not result in the recovery of money lost because the wrongdoers may not have sufficient funds or assets. The ASC will continue to fight vigorously for the protection of victims and to ensure the wrongdoers are held accountable.

State Securities Regulators in Texas and Alabama Team Up to Protect Senior Investors and Put a Stop to Fraudulent Precious Metal Investments

Montgomery, Alabama (July 22, 2021) - The Texas State Securities Board (TSSB) and the Alabama Securities Commission (ASC) issue cease and desist orders against TRUE BULLION LLC DBA GSI EXCHANGE, directing it to shut down illegal operations in Alabama and Texas.
The Texas and Alabama orders accuse GSI Exchange of engaging in an illegal advisory scheme involving over $32 million. The scam involves 450 investors many of whom are senior citizens. GSI Exchange allegedly told investors the holdings in their retirement portfolios were high risk and they may lose their assets. GSI Exchange is accused of encouraging these investors to liquidate their securities portfolios and use the proceeds to purchase gold and silver coins to the benefit of GSI through high commissions.

“Scams that prey on senior investors are particularly heinous,” said ASC Director Joseph Borg. “Seniors have worked hard all their lives to accumulate wealth and retire comfortably. Someone using scare tactics comes in, convinces them to liquidate and POOF... their retirement dreams are dashed, and they are left with very little.”

“The fees taken by GSI Exchange at the outset of the investment are unconscionable. By targeting senior investors, the company is exploiting those who can least afford to start over in accumulating their retirement nest eggs,” added TSSB Commissioner Travis J. lies.

The orders allege GSI is taking as much as 25% of investor funds as an undisclosed commission or fee on the front-end of each precious metals transaction.

The orders name Anthony Anderson as the principal of GSI Exchange. Anderson and GSI Exchange are not registered or notice-filed to provide investment advice in Texas or Alabama (as required by state securities law).

The TSSB and ASC urge investors to investigate any precious metals investment before sending money to the promoter. Investors can better protect themselves by taking the following steps:

• Before investing with someone who claims to be a financial professional, verify he or she is registered by contacting your local state securities regulator - https://www.nasaa.org/contact-your-regulator/.
• Don’t fall for claims of guaranteed returns. All investing involves risk and there are no guarantees.
• Don’t fall for high-pressure sales tactics or anyone trying to illicit an emotional response—especially fear or anxiety. Never make a hasty investment decision. Be sure you understand the product and associated risks.
• Investments cost money and salespersons often earn commissions. The financial professional working with you is required to disclose how they assess fees to your account, how they make money and how much. Always ask for this information upfront.

Montgomery, Alabama (August 6, 2021) -The Alabama Securities Commission (ASC) and the Texas State Securities Board (TSSB) issued cease and desist orders against First Class Wealth Preservation (First Class), directing it to shut down illegal operations in both states.
Joint Announcements, Investor Alerts & Enforcement Actions

The orders accuse First Class and its agents, Mitchell Kane Malizia and Jason Shaw, of illegally promoting a fraudulent precious metals advisory scheme. According to the order, First Class sent unsolicited advertisements by email, including to the email accounts of ASC and TSBB, and through Facebook. First Class is encouraging people to liquidate securities and use the proceeds to purchase precious metals through self-directed individual retirement accounts, which can be set up for investors through a company recommended by First Class. In the solicitations, First Class makes several misrepresentations and omissions to induce investors to transfer their assets, and neither First Class, Malizia, nor Shaw are registered to provide investment advice in Alabama or Texas.

First Class claims that investors will not incur out-of-pocket expenses and represents that no commissions are charged. Instead, they claim that sales representatives are paid by the self-directed IRA company. However, the self-directed IRA company denies this claim and the investigation revealed that First Class was profiting in its own way. For example, ASC and TSSB identified a purchase made by an investor in which First Class paid just over $85,000.00 for precious metals but sold those precious metals to an investor for $200,000.00. This “fee” was not disclosed to investors. Further, in 2019, Malizia pleaded guilty to a felony and was placed on probation for 3 years. Malizia was on probation at the time of the solicitations, but this was not made known to investors.

The ASC cautions investors to thoroughly research any investment opportunity. Call the ASC at 1-800-222-1253 and ask for the registration department to check out persons offering investment opportunities, investment advice for a fee and any products they offer. Contact the ASC to report suspected fraud, inappropriate securities business practices, or to obtain consumer information. Free investor education and fraud prevention materials are available at www.asc.alabama.gov.

For further information contact 1-800-222-1253 and ask for Public Affairs.

The meeting was called to order at 10:03 a.m. by Chair McCain and she noted that there was a quorum present. Chair McCain asked for a roll call and each present member (as detailed above) was accounted for. Chair McCain then asked for a motion to approve the current agenda and the minutes from the March 21, 2021 meeting. Said motion was made by Commissioner Hill and was seconded by Commissioner Rowe. The motion carried unanimously.

Director Borg welcomed the Commission and informed the Commission of new and recently promoted staff members. Staff members promoted: Tina Tell was promoted to Registration Manager and Tim Adams and Lauren Hitt were promoted to Securities Analyst Supervisors. Carrie Holmes, a new-hire from Florida, was hired in as a Securities Analyst Supervisor. Further, the Director advised the Commission that David Gilmore, IT Manager (with over 30 years with the State) and Spencer Lee, Securities Analyst Supervisor (with over 25 years with the State) have both retired from the ASC since the March 2021 meeting.

Director Borg provided information on the Commission’s operations during COVID-19, and then moved into the Accounting section of the Quarterly report, followed by a review of the remaining reports of the Registration and Enforcement Divisions. Director Borg concluded the review of the monthly report with summaries of the IT, Investor Education, and Public Relations Divisions.

During the Public Relations section, Director Borg previewed the “Short the Squirrel” initiative, which is a financial education booklet for 2nd graders in Alabama funded by IPT.

The Director then gave the Commission a summary of the Department of Public Examiners audit of the ASC formal exit interview, held on March 29. 2021.

Director Borg informed the Commission of the filing of ASC vs. GPB, et al., involving a New York-based firm. In a coordinated action, the State of New York and the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) have filed simultaneous separate actions. Additionally, five other states have filed Administrative Orders in this case.

Chairman McCain then asked for a motion to enter into Executive Session so that on-going legal cases may be discussed. Deputy Director Reed (a licensed attorney in Alabama), certified that one of the exceptions of the Open Meetings Act applied, in that pending litigation would be discussed during the Executive session.
