

3. On June 30, 2020, Commission staff received Respondent's application cover letter, statement of prior activity, and company references. 5. On July 16, 2020, the Respondent requested the Commission to proceed with the review of their pending license application.

6. On July 20, 2020, the Commission staff issued a prior activity letter to Respondent advising that licensing would not be available until the prior business activity had been resolved. In addition, the Commission staff requested the Statement of Prior Activity Form be completed and to provide an explanation of why Respondent was not a licensed money transmitter in its home State of California.

7. On July 28, 2020, the Commission staff received the Statement of Prior Activity Form that reflected prior money transmission activity in the State of Alabama. A statement was included that reflected Respondent was not required to be licensed as a California Money Transmitter licensee under the California Money Transmitter Law, Fin. Code, §2000 et seq. and that Respondent offers small businesses an all-in-one solution to their payroll, HR, and employee benefits needs through its online platform. Cal. Fin. Code §2010(j) exempts payroll companies from the Money Transmission Law. A person that delivers wages or salaries on behalf of employers to employees or facilitates the payment of payroll taxes to state and federal agencies, makes payments relating to employee benefit plans, makes distribution of other authorized deductions from employees' wages or salaries, or transmits other funds on behalf of an employer in connection with transactions related to employees is exempt from the California Money Transmission Law (Cal. Some of Respondent's small business customers may have sent money outside of Alabama. Since Respondent's fees are structured as general subscription fees to Respondent service, Respondent was unable to provide an exact figure of the fees that represented transmissions from Alabama-based businesses to Alabama individuals.
11. On October 21, 2020, the Commission staff and Respondent discussed, via conference call, the relevance of the actual amount of fees earned by Respondent from Alabama clients being disclosed to the Commission prior to licensing.
12. Respondent responded with the total money transmission fees earned from Alabama clients from March 2014 – June 2020.
13. Between October 24, 2020 and August 10, 2021, the Commission and Respondent continued to discuss and exchange information regarding the Commission's investigation, as well as negotiate the terms of any consent order that would result from this investigation.
14. On August 11, 2021, Respondent provided the Commission an estimate of the fees charged to Alabama customers that were derived from activities that may fall under the statutory definition of monetary transmission.
15. Respondent has cooperated with the Commission in its investigation into this matter.
